Competent Person Service

Whilst employing a full-time member of staff to deal with health and safety issues is essential for some companies, it can just be overkill for many small and medium sized firms. What we do here at NJS Safety is give you access to our wealth of expertise whenever you need it. This keeps your overheads down and gives you complete peace of mind.

Packages Tailored To Your Needs

We don't charge a monthly retaining fee for us to act as your health and safety consultant. Our philosophy is that we work as a partnership and we should only charge you when work needs to be done. This way we feel this is a cost effective and time efficient way of managing every aspect of your companies' health and safety.

We recognise that not all businesses are created equal or have the same requirement which is why we offer a bespoke service. Whether you need assistance with scheduled workplace safety inspections or safety plans and objectives, our services can be tailored to suit your exact needs.

If you would like to find out more about how we can save you money and give you access to the best health and safety advice available give us a call.
